

Material Encounters

When: September 19th – October 19th, 2017
 Where: London Children's Museum

Illustrating moments from a three-year art-based collaborative inquiry into materiality in early childhood education, the Material Encounters exhibit explores materials as encounters and events. It considers what it means to think with things: how each material evokes particular intra-actions and presents particular possibilities among/with/between young children.

Material Encounters exhibit is included with general admission.

The Quality Child Care
 Coordinating Committee
 A Collaborative Community Project
 Putting the Pieces Together

